

The image displays four wireframe designs for a website, arranged in a row. Each design represents a different stage of development, from a basic layout to a more detailed design with content and branding.

- Design 1 (Leftmost): A basic layout with a purple header, a navigation bar, and a main content area. It includes a 'Contact Us' section with a form and a 'For complaints and observations' section with a form.
- Design 2: A more detailed layout with a purple header, a navigation bar, and a main content area. It includes a 'Contact Us' section with a form and a 'For complaints and observations' section with a form.
- Design 3: A more detailed layout with a purple header, a navigation bar, and a main content area. It includes a 'Contact Us' section with a form and a 'For complaints and observations' section with a form.
- Design 4 (Rightmost): A more detailed layout with a purple header, a navigation bar, and a main content area. It includes a 'Contact Us' section with a form and a 'For complaints and observations' section with a form.
